May 28, 2020

WELCOME

The background features a large magnifying glass with a black handle and frame, centered over the text. Behind the magnifying glass, there are several data visualization elements: a pie chart with green, orange, and light green segments in the upper left; a bar chart with teal bars of varying heights in the upper right; and a line graph with blue and grey lines and circular markers in the lower left. The overall color palette is dominated by shades of blue, green, and grey.

Student/Family/Staff Engagement and Data Tracking

Learning Goals

- ▶ Identify tools for remote data collection for engagement
- ▶ Determine metrics for which you want to collect data
- ▶ Summarize best practices in remote data collection

Agenda

- ▶ Background on ACT Now
- ▶ Why Remote Data Collection
- ▶ Best Practices in Remote Data Collection
- ▶ Survey Tools
- ▶ Data Tools and Practices For
 - ▶ Students
 - ▶ Family
 - ▶ Staff

What is ACT Now?

- ▶ A statewide coalition (with a counterpart in every state) that provides advocacy and professional development support for afterschool programs and community schools

Why Remote Data Collection

- ▶ Helps to determine that you are providing the right resources, services, and programming
- ▶ Examine your engagement
- ▶ Make sure you are using the right outreach strategies
- ▶ Determine if you are meeting your goal
- ▶ Helps you to improve
- ▶ Communicate your impact

Keep in mind you may need to pivot right now!

Best Practices in Remote Data Collection

BEST
PRACTICE

- ▶ Planning is key!
- ▶ Keep your goals in mind
- ▶ Be careful not to overwhelm families, staff, ... or yourself!
 - ▶ Think about what others are going through
- ▶ Ascertain what funders really need to know
- ▶ It looks different everywhere
- ▶ Be aware of staff and families available technology
- ▶ Determine the best pathways and timing to contact your audience
- ▶ Follow up with your audience (i.e. calls and texts)
- ▶ Tailor your questions to your audience
- ▶ Ensure collaboration
- ▶ Tips and Tools for Remote Qualitative Data Collection:

Creating Survey Questions

- ▶ <http://www.actnowillinois.org/wp-content/uploads/2020/05/Survey-Design-Tips.pdf>
- ▶ Avoid technical terms
- ▶ Be specific
- ▶ Avoid complex sentences
- ▶ Provide reference frames
- ▶ Answer choice should anticipate all possibilities and be unique
- ▶ Avoid leading or emotional questions

Remote Data Collection for Students

Why

- Determine what they need/want
- Figure out if they are using your resources/services
- Give them voice
- Make sure they hear from you

When

- During programing
- Through their teachers (or just ask the teachers)

Where

- Social media
- Poll
- Send out a survey

What to Track

- Remote learning hours
- Check ins
- Social media engagement (views, shares, likes)
- Meals
- Activity packets
- Remote learning agreement
- Who is contacting the youth

ASM Student Data

After School Matters COVID-19 Teen Survey

Research Brief | April 2020

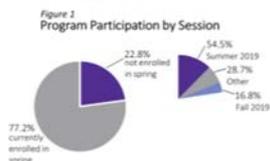

Summary:

- More than three in four teen respondents who are currently enrolled in an ASM program say they have been in contact with their instructors since the pause in programming began.
- Almost all teens have access to mobile phones, but access to other technological resources like computers, software, or printers may be limited, which could affect their ability to participate in online programming.
- In open-ended responses, many teens had questions and comments about their stipend, noting its importance in helping provide for themselves and their families.

Teen Characteristics

2,982 teens completed the survey.

Of these teens, 77.2% reported being currently enrolled in an ASM program. Most teens that reported not being currently enrolled participated in the Summer 2019 session (Figure 1).

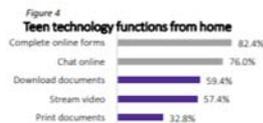

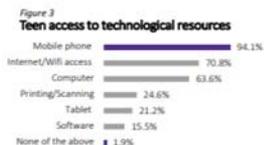

Teens in nearly every Chicago neighborhood participated in the survey, with most teens reporting they live on the west and south sides of the city (Figure 2). 76.5% of teen respondents currently enrolled in an ASM program say they have been in contact with their instructors since the pause in programming began.

Technology Access

Results from the teen survey suggest that teens have varying access to technological resources. Although nearly all teens reported having access to a mobile phone, more than one-third of teens do not have a computer (Figure 3). While only 2% of responding teens reported not having access to any technology, the actual number of teens lacking access to technological resources is likely higher than these findings suggest since many teens without access to technology may not have been able to respond to an online survey.

Nearly 30% of teens do not have access to WiFi internet. Two-thirds of teens reported accessing the internet through a cell phone data plan (66.7%), while a few reported accessing the internet through a mobile hotspot (13.4%). Teens' capacity for online interactions appear to be limited (Figure 4) – while most teens report being able to chat online or complete forms, a majority of teens cannot print and more than 40% cannot download documents or stream video.
